Fallen (In The Backrooms)

I took out my... journal? Diary? Sketch Book? I don't know. I took out my pencil and started drawing.

I wasn't that good at drawing but I did it anyways.

I drew myself, a girl with short dirty blonde hair and cyan tips at the bottom of my hair. I draw my bright blue eyes and then I start drawing my body. I wear a cyan shirt with an ice cube on it, I have a short white skirt and I just draw whatever shoes.

I then draw another girl. She has short white hair and has amazing black eyes. She wears a white jumper that covers a lot of her body. She wears short pastel blue pants and wears a beanie. I don't know why she dresses as if its as cold as the Artic. But I love it either way.

I write my name on top of me. My name is Bracelety.

That may seem like a weird name but here, its normal. Its sort of the law to be named after an object. It doesn't even have to be an object because the Principal and Co-Principal of this school are named after numbers and letters. The Principal is called Four and the Co-Principal is called X. I remember overhearing Pencil and Match gossip about them liking each other or something, I wasn't paying attention.

The other girl in my drawing is called Ice Cube.

She is my idol and I love her! I have a ton of drawings of her and she's just so amazing! I hug my drawing. Just thinking about her makes me want to shriek of excitement. I like to think of her as my best friend even though she probably doesn't know of my existence...

I suddenly heard the bell ring. I start rushing to the stairs because my next class is down stairs. But suddenly I trip and fall near the railing of the stairs. I start falling. I close my eyes in fear as I am about to hit the smooth, hard stairs... but I don't feel the collision...

Instead, I feel a soft, moist carpet but there is no carpet on the stairs. I also hear this annoying buzz noise. I open my eyes... a yellow wallpaper and yellow carpet comes into view. There is no room like this in my school.

I suddenly saw something in the distance.

"Um... Hello!?" I said loudly. Instead of talking like a normal person, I usually shriek excitedly. I don't know why. I just do.

I saw the figure move forwards. The figure was a girl. She had short, dark brown hair that was tied into a large bun that stuck up. She wore a green overall with a leaf on it and underneath was a red shirt and grey pants. The girl had bright green eyes.

"Bracelety!? Your here too!?" said a familiar voice. It was Leafy. She came towards me and behind her was another girl.

The other girl had blonde, long hair. She had a pink beanie and on the beanie was a silver ribbon around it. She wore a yellow shirt with a pencil on it. The girl had a long, multi-colored (the colors are yellow, pink and silver) skirt. Her black shoes had a pointy end.

It was Pencil. I thought they went missing. I guess they went here. I realized I still had my pencil and... book.

"Do you knew where we are?" I asked in my loud voice,
"SHHHH! And... I think so," Pencil took out her phone,
"Good thing there's internet down here..." Pencil muttered before showing her phone to us. It showed a website... something about 'The Backrooms' which had a lot of interesting stuff.
"Oh ok!" I smiled at them. They put their hands over their ears.
"Bracelety... er... your loud and I think it would be best to be quiet... Could you do that?" Leafy asked me in her nicest way possible.
"How's this?" I asked them in a whisper. They nodded.

I took out my book and pencil. I started drawing Ice Cube. It helps me calm my nerves. Not drawing, looking at Ice Cube. I smiled. I sat down and Leafy sat down next to me.

"What are you drawing?" she asked,
"Icy!" I shrieked happily, forgetting that I'm supposed to be quiet,
"SSHH!" shushed Pencil,
"We should probably get moving," said Pencil, looking around. Me and Leafy nodded as we stood up.

I wonder if we could escape. I wonder if this is just a dream. I wonder if I'm going to see Ice Cube again. I push away this thought.

I will see her again!

...Right?

I start thinking about her and smile.

My thoughts are interrupted by a scream followed by a loud thud.

We stopped walking.

Missing (In Reality)

I looked away from Book and tried to find Bracelety.

I didn't see her.

I started to worry a bit. She hadn't gone missing like Pencil and Leafy... right? I frowned. Maybe she was just drawing or writing in the book of hers.

Yea, that's it

"Ice Cube? Are you listening?" the green and blue haired girl (aka Book) asked me. I turned back to her multicolored eyes.
"S-sorry, I was just-" I muttered,
"N-no! It's ok!" said Book, suddenly looking distressed.

Book had been a bully to a girl named Taco a while back. Book was really sorry and tried to act the nicest she could to anyone. I'm pretty sure Taco forgave her. Whenever someone is being a bit mean to someone else, Book tries to reason with them.

"I was just saying that you should listen to people when their talking... I'm not telling you t-to be that way, of course!" she tries to reassure me that she's not being bossy,
"Yea... it's fine, Book. I was just wondering where Bracelety is... sh-she's usually following me," I said quietly. Book looked at where I was looking at before.
"I don't really know much about her... umm... sorry for not being able to help," Book said,
"Its fine," I muttered.

Book walked off. I went to go find Bracelety.

I don't know why I was so worried. She was a bit creepy and stalked me. And she might just be drawing or writing in that book of hers.

But also another thing... why do I even care about her..? She was always trying to get my attention and cheering me on even if it wasn't the time. I thought about it for a while.

As I was thinking, I accidentally bumped into someone. I looked to see who it was. I saw red hair in a bun and orange eyes. The person was wearing an orange jacket with a shirt of fire. They wore a red skirt.
"Watch where your, like, going! Oh... hi, like, Ice Cube," Match's face turned from a frown to a smile. I smiled back at her. I decided I would ask her about Bracelety.
"Hey Match... I-I was just wondering... do you know where Bracelety is?" I asked her,
"Er... who?" I remembered she hasn't really been paying attention to people ever since... Pencil went missing.
"N-never mind," I sighed. I shot a smile back at her and walked away.

I go back to my thoughts...

Why do I even care if she's missing like Pencil or Leafy?

I suddenly realize the bell rang, I rush to my class.

"Your late," said the teacher. I felt his grey eyes on me. I turned to see his short, grey-ish black hair. Of course. I had Eight as my teacher.
"S-sorry," I whispered,
"Don't be late again. Sit next to Pie," he said. He pointed at a girl with short, dirty blonde hair. She had a dark blue hair band and had matching blue eyes. She had a light-grey jumper with little dark blue accents.
"R-right," I muttered before walking to Pie.
She smiled at me, I smiled back.

Eight continued teaching, when suddenly I heard a small laugh. Eight clearly heard it and turned to see who it was. He narrowed his eyes, but then couldn't find the culprit. I turned around when Eight was looking to see two boys. One of them had red hair that when straight up like a square and the other had light brown hair. The one with the red hair had black eyes and the other had brown eyes. I recognized them as Blocky and Woody. Blocky had a sly smile while Woody had a shy one. Blocky was known for doing pranks and Woody joined him a few weeks ago. They were an... interesting duo. They were probably doing a prank.

The class went by and no prank came. Soon, the bell had rung. I went to lunch and then I remembered Bracelety. I frowned.

"Food Fight!" Blocky screamed and it all emerged into chaos

A/N: I left you on a cliffhanger >:3

Tired (In The Backrooms)

Pencil and Leafy started running. But I didn't. Instead, I headed towards the noise. I saw a girl. She turned to me. I smiled. Pencil and Leafy came to me and looked where I was looking.
"Hi, Liy," Leafy greeted. Liy looked confused, I couldn't blame her.
"Where are we?" Liy looked around,
"The Backrooms, let's get moving," Pencil left, expecting us to follow and so we did.
"Their dropping like flies," Pencil muttered to herself,
"Alright, the wiki says we need to continue moving right," Pencil orders,
"Wiki???" Liy was very confused.
"We're in this place called The Backrooms like I said before. This place is supposedly made up but we're here anyways. It originated on the internet and its become a very big thing. Since its a big thing, there is a wiki about it. It has a bunch of the levels and stuff. We're on level 0 and it gets crazier the more levels we traverse but I hope that there is an exit in this level," Pencil explained. Liy thought about this information.
"But why do we need to keep moving?" Liy asked our 'leader',
"There is an entity called bacteria and it will kill us. It will hear us if you don't keep quiet!" Pencil whisper-shouted.

I frowned. Pencil was mean sometimes but she could also be a good leader. I know this because Ice Cube is in this club called Freesmart and Pencil is the leader. I guess Book or Ice Cube is the leader now because they are alternates, if someone is missing or not present then alternates will take their place. I wish I was apart of that club, so I could be with Ice Cube more often! I smiled again at the thought. Smiling is fun. I do it often.

I looked at everyone. I saw that Leafy seemed sad.
"Hey, Leafy! What's wrong?" I whispered. Leafy turned to look at me.
"I-it's just that... Firey. He still hasn't forgiven me for... stealing... aanyways! I'm sad because he won't forgive me and if I don't get out of here... well... he can never forgive me because I won't be there and..." Leafy trailed off,

"Well, I want to see Ice Cube again! And we just have to hope we'll get out! When I'm sad I usually smile! It helps!" I suggested. She smiled and I smiled back at her.
"Thanks Bracelety! Your right, it does help," Leafy thanked.

~Time Skip~

It felt like we had been walking for hours. It probably had been hours, I don't know.
"Can we rest?" Liy groaned for the 4th time in a row,
"No! We have to keep moving!" Pencil insisted,
"But Pencil! We've been walking for hours! We can't keep going like this! Admit it, you tired too. We don't want to rest. We need to," Leafy persuaded convincingly,
"Alright, fine! We'll rest," Pencil said. We stopped and sat down but I lay down. I felt so tired. My legs were so tired. I'm glad Leafy persuaded Pencil to let us rest.
"It heard us," Pencil suddenly said,
"Get up!" Pencil ordered. We obeyed. Leafy knew what was going on but me and Liy were confused. After we started running (all our legs still aching), I heard a roar. As we turned a corner, I looked back and saw a black goop thing. It didn't look like it was moving though. I looked in front of me to follow the group and then looked back. It was closer.

As I was looking back, I tripped on something. I tripped on Liy's shoes. We both fell to the ground. The monster. It was in front of us. About to grab us when Liy kicked it's... feet? I don't know but it fell. We got up and kept running.
"I think we lost it! Now can we rest, again?" Liy said after a while,
"Fine," Pencil replied. Liy pushed her long, brown hair out her face and lay down. I flopped onto the ground. Leafy and Pencil sat down like normal people.

~Time Skip~

"Bracelety, wake up," I heard someone say. I guess I must've dosed off. I opened my eyes to find Liy's blue eyes. Liy moved out of the way and I stood up. I looked around. Everyone was already up.

"We heard a noise, we need to get moving," Pencil explained to me,
"But what if its another person?" I asked, whispering,
"I doubt that multiple thudding noised would be-" Pencil stopped. We heard voices.

"I think I heard some voices over there," a monotone voice said,
"Maybe they know where we are," another person exclaimed. Then there was some beeping.
"Aw, seriously!" someone else said,
"I just wanna get out of here, my fanbase will wonder where I am!" a wheezy voice groaned,
"I don't hear them anymore," said the monotone voice,
"They probably heard us and got scared," said the voice from before.

"They seem... safe," Leafy said as she wandered over to where the voices were coming from.
"Leafy! I didn't know you were here too!" one of the voices said. Leafy gasped.
"Stapy! Loser! David! Roboty! 8-Ball! Good to see you!," I heard Leafy say. She turned back to us and behind her followed a bunch of boys. Pencil flinched.
"I thought only girls came here..." I heard Pencil mutter.

We told the boys everything we knew so far and decided to continue moving. We ended up resting again soon after though. I missed home. It was where I could see Ice Cube and learn stuff and look at Ice Cube. While we resting, I decided to write in my book. I wrote in it like a diary but didn't necessarily call it that. I just didn't know what to do. It was actually pretty boring here in the Backrooms. I remember on that website Pencil showed me that there were different levels. I also remember it saying that there is an organization called the M.E.G which stands for Major Exploring Group. Maybe they would find us and bring us home! After a while of writing and drawing, I decided to sleep. I would need the energy soon because Pencil will make us walk again.

A/N: THERE IS 1000 WORDS EXACLTY :D

Level Fun (In The Backrooms)

It was unbelievably boring in a place where its supposed to be crazy. My legs didn't hurt as much as they did before but they still hurt. We walked and walked. I wonder if there will still be more people teleporting(?) in here. And soon enough, my question had been answered. We heard another thud and instead of going away from it, Pencil headed towards it. And we followed her. When we reached the place we heard the thud from, Pencil's face lit up.
"MATCH!" Pencil squealed. I rounded the corner to see Pencil hugging Match.
"Pence-Pence! Its, like, so great to, like, see you," Match looked around and frowned a bit.
"Where, like, are we Pence-Pence? Also why are, like, they here?" Pencil let go of Match.
"I'll explain it to you once we start moving," Pencil led the group once more.

After Pencil explained to Match what was going on, it was silent again.
"Alright! That's it! This is boring I'm leading!" Liy said after a while. Liy ran forward in front of Pencil.
"Liy!" Pencil chased after her. I followed the others to follow Pencil and Liy. The next thing I saw was Liy looking at a section where its yellow (though different from the other yellow) wallpaper and has red carpet. It had balloons and cakes and looked really fun.
"Looks like I've found my next adventure!" Liy happily screamed as she ran into the section and disappeared. Pencil sighed. She took out her phone and started searching through it.
"Level fun," Pencil read out, "Habitat of the Partygoer which is one of the most dangerous entities..." Pencil trailed off.

"Alright! I want half of us in there and half of us to guard. Bracelety, 8-Ball, Stapy and Leafy are coming with me in there. Match, I want you to be the leader of the rest," Pencil smiled at her best friend. We headed in there and it looked like the section except without the cake and balloon. Even though Pencil said that it was the habitat of the Partygoers, there were none that we could see. We walked and walked. It was like the other level we were on except less people and more dangerous. A few minutes pass by and I decide to think of Ice Cube. Again. I just follow them but I'm not paying attention to what they say or do.

"Bracelety! Are you listening?!" Pencil screams at me. I wake up from my day dream.
"UHm... sorry Pencil! I-I was just thinking about-" I stutter out the words,
"Let me guess... Ice Cube? You always, ALWAYS, talk about her or think about her. Yet, you've never interacted with her! She never ever mentions you and never talks about you or has even talked to you! SO, would you shut up about her!?" Pencil rants. I feel like I'm about to cry. We continue moving and I try to hide my sobs. I get sympathetic looks from time to time. Even Pencil looks like she regrets it.

"Wow! That was such a big fight! That's no fun! =)" a thing comes from a corridor in front of us. It has leather like skin. It looks humanoid but looks like it has a paper bag for a head. Its yellow and has this red, liquidly face that is a smile. We back up a bit. I guess this is a Partygoer.
"Why so worried? We just want you to join the party! =)" says the Partygoer. Multiple Partygoers come out of the walls and we're surrounded.
"Party Host says they're gonna join the party!" says one of them. Suddenly, one of them falls onto the ground face first. Liy is on top of them.
"Hah! You aren't gonna get me that easily!" Liy laughs.
"Liy! There you are! We need to find an exit, fast!" Pencil runs towards Liy, grabs her and then kicks another Partygoer. She runs but stops and looks back.
"What are you doing!? Come on!" we all follow Pencil. I'm not sure what happens next because my eyes are closed but we're suddenly back on Level 0.

I look at everyone. But I see someone else. A boy with brown hair and fire shirt. He seemed... very small for some reason.

"MORE idiots!? Can this get any worse!?" he says. Leafy looks surprised.
"Firey Jr!?" Leafy says, surprised. It's weird. She knows anyone can get teleported into these Backrooms but she is surprised Firey Jr is here.
"Yea, it's me. Also don't try anything. I can talk to my brother about it and he would be mad at you even more for hurting his little brother," Firey Jr teased Leafy. Leafy looked sad and mad.
"I... i-is Firey ok?" she asked randomly. Firey Jr crossed his arms.
"Yeah. He's fine. In fact, he's practically overjoyed that your gone. He hates you and hopes that you never come back. But... it seems like he won't see me either..." Firey Jr's laugh turned into a sad, quiet whisper. Leafy frowned and looked sorry for him. But she is always sorry for people. It's like it's her job to be nice because she always does it.
"Your screaming is going to the attention of the creature," ("What creature!?" Firey Jr asked,) "so, lets get moving," Pencil said blankly.

We all followed her and walked. Soon, we rested. As always.
"How about we do some homework?" Leafy asked on one of our breaks,
"Wait, what? You have it?" Liy looked at Leafy,
"Yea, I always try to be on top of things, so I bring my homework mostly wherever I go," Leafy pulled out the homework from her bag.
"But we don't NEED to do it," sighed Firey Jr. Leafy frowned.
"The teachers would be mad," Leafy took out a pencil case.
"Their not THAT bad," Stapy says.
"Well I for one don't want to get in trouble. Five and Eight would shout at us and give us a lecture. Seven MIGHT tell X and they might tell Four or Seven would just give us detention. Six will just shout in our face or kick us. Nine and Ten are good though," Leafy started. I decided to do it too. I don't like screaming or lectures or kicks or detention. We weren't able to do much because Pencil made us walk. As usual.

The Meeting (In Reality)

As Blocky shouted, multiple people ran straight to the door. I recognized Pie, Lollipop and Taco as three of the people. I soon followed. Pie walked over to me when I exited.
"Hi!" she said. Really random time to talk but I didn't mind. I waved back.
"So... I heard you missing someone, too?" Pie asked as other people exited. I nodded.
"I'm also missing someone. Liy. She's apart of this group me, Tree, Black Hole, Pen, Remote, Pillow, Bottle and her. I just wanted to talk to you about it. I forgot my point," Pie laughed a bit. I smiled. I talked to her for a bit before trying to go back to the cafeteria. The food fight must have stopped because no one was doing it but food was everywhere. I turned to the exit.
"The food fight has stopped. You can come back in," I said and turned back to the cafeteria.

~Time Skip~

As I was walking through the corridor (not going anywhere in particular), I heard people talking about the missing people. Apparently Pencil, Leafy, Bracelety, Liy, Loser, 8-Ball, David, Roboty, Stapy, Match and Firey Jr were all missing. That was a lot. I wonder what happened to them. I then remember Bracelety is still out there. I worry that their dead.

Suddenly, something happens. I'm not sure what but it just happens. I hear something and suddenly the corridor and people there glitch away and its black. Just black. I get very confused. Maybe there's something on my eye? I try to check but my hands won't move. My hands... feel like they aren't even there. I walk forward and bump into something. I think its glass but I can't tell.

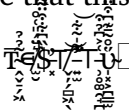
"[0G], you idiot! Don't sleep on the computer! It'll glitch it!"

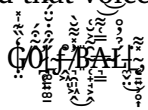
The name that this person was talking to was... sort of glitched out.



"S-sorry, T-S/-U-"

"Hey, have any of you seen  ?"

I recognized that voice.



"No! Sorry, G0[-/BAL-, I haven't seen him,"

It was-

As I was walking through the corridor (not going anywhere in particular), I heard people talking about the missing people. Apparently Pencil, Leafy, Bracelety, Liy, Loser, 8-Ball, David, Roboty, Stapy, Match and Firey Jr were all missing. That was a lot. I wonder what happened to them. I then remember Bracelety is still out there. I worry that their dead. I see Book running through the corridor. Heading towards me. "Hey, Ice Cube. We're having a meeting now, let's go," Book pulled me to where we usually have our meetings. I saw Ruby and Bubble already in there. We sat down.

"Two of our alliance members are missing. What do we do?" Book asked, "Well... maybe we should just... stop it? Like, not do it anymore?" Bubble suggested, "Y-you mean end it!? No!" Ruby said, "I guess we could..." Book muttered. "Y-YOUR REALLY C-CONSIDERING IT!? WE CAN'T GIVE UP!" Ruby exclaimed. "But just until they come back. Then we'll continue," Book said. "But wh-what i-if they n-never come back?" I whispered. "Don't think that Icy..." Book said, "But what if Icy is right!? What if they never come back!? WHAT DO WE DO!?" Ruby panicked. The bell rang. "Alright, we'll deal with this later," Book said as she headed towards the door. We followed her and headed to class.

A/N: This one was very short because I didn't really know what to do and I really need inspiration and suggestions when your in the POV of Ice Cube. Also... I wonder what that error was?

The Skin Stealer (In The Backrooms)

"Dadadadadadadada!" a voice said. As usual, it was someone that had fallen. Dora to be exact. Dora and David stayed distant. Dora and David were not born where the rest of us come from.

"Hey! How about we say what we miss the most about uh... before we were here," I suggested while we walking. Most people nodded.
"I'll go first! I miss... Firey and everyone back at the school," Leafy said,
"You may miss him but he doesn't miss you!" Firey Jr laughed.
"W-well how do I know your not lying!? What if he misses me and not you!? How would you know?!" Leafy burst into tears. Firey Jr looked stunned.
"I-I... Alright! Maybe I lied..." Firey Jr muttered.
"Anyways... I miss my club. Or, as we like to call it, our alliance," Pencil said,
"I agree with, like, Pence-Pence," Match agreed, nodding her head.
"I miss Foldy! She's my best friend. I also miss Marker and playing Toss The Dirt with him!" Stapy cried. Leafy was still crying. Roboty beeped a bunch of times.
"Aw seriously!?" David said. I didn't understand.
"Dadadadadadadada!" Dora replied(?) as she slapped David.
"Hmm... well, I'm not actually so sure what I miss," Liy said,
"I miss... everything," Loser said,
"Well, I miss annoying Golf Ball," 8-Ball smiled.
"I miss Ice Cube!" I whisper-shouted,
"We know," sighed Loser.

~Time Skip~

As I was drawing in my book thing, I heard walking. No one was walking, though. No one that I could see, at least, everyone was sleeping. I put my book thing and pencil on the ground and carefully get up.

"Hey- lost- you?- help- me- I'm," a male voice said. I stumble backwards. A boy appeared in a hallway. He had black hair and blue eyes. He wore a dark blue shirt with little light blue accents and blue jeans. He had a stripe of dark blue in his hair and seemed tired.
"Hi- no- yes-" he said. I stood up properly and smiled.
"H-hi! Are you lost, like us?" I asked. He just stared.
"Listening?- hey- you- are-" he replied randomly. I was very confused.
"I don't understand you..." I answered. Next to me I heard shuffling and then I realized Pencil was awake. She was on her phone and looked a bit panicked.
"Everybody- people-" the boy said. After a while, Pencil started waking everyone up.

"We need to leave and get away from him... move slowly..." Pencil whispered,
"Why?" Loser asked,
"J-just trust me," Pencil replied,
"Well, how would we trust you if you don't even tell us what's going on?" 8-Ball said as he ran off. The boy turned to the direction that 8-Ball, his tired expression still on his face as if he couldn't change it. The boy ran in that direction.
"The idiot's doomed himself," Pencil muttered,
"How?" Stapy asked,
"Stop asking stupid questions!" Pencil replied, "That... was a skin st-" Pencil explained.

BANG!

Gunshots were heard.
"I-I'm pretty sure no entities can use guns... and none of them even have guns!" Pencil exclaimed as she led the group to the directions 8-Ball and the skin stealer were. 8-Ball was standing in a corner while the boy we met earlier was on the floor... but something was off. Something came out of him as if he was a skin suit. It was a tall humanoid shape with octopus suckers on its body. Its yellow and it had sunken white eyes. Next to this... Skin Stealer was someone in a yellow hazard suit. They had a gun in hand. The Skin Stealer was bleeding, I think. Its blood was transparent, if that even was blood.

"Are you more Skin Stealers?" asked the person in the hazard suit,
"N-no! Were lost! We're... survivors," Liy explained. The person eyed us.
"Alright. What are you kids doing here?" he asked,
"We... um... I think the term is 'no-clipped' in here?" 8-Ball replied,
"Uh-huh... ok. You guys should be coming with me," said the man.

We followed him cautiously. We knew he wasn't an entity but that doesn't mean we can't trust him; at least... that's what Pencil said.
"Where are we, like, even, like, going?" Match questioned,
"Back," the man replied. Pencil and Match looked at each other, confused.
"Back, like, where?" Match asked,
"To reality, where you belong. Kids shouldn't be in the Backrooms. Its to dangerous. Did you see what happened to that poor kid?" he said. Everyone, including mine, faces lit up.
"Reality!? W-we're going back home!? I-I will get to see Ice Cube again!?" I exclaimed,
"Yes. Why would you like to see an ice cube?" he asked,
"She's talking about a person. A friend of mine," Pencil explained, rolling her eyes.
"Why would someone name their child 'Ice Cube'?" the man probably looked confused but I couldn't tell.
"Its sort of like the law where we come from," Liy said,
"Weird law... where are you guys from?" he muttered,
"Yoyle City on Dream Island," Loser replied. The man nodded.

~Time Skip~

"Alright... we should be almost there," the man said. We walked a little longer. We turned and my eyes fell upon what seemed to be a base. We passed through and I saw where we were heading. A portal thing. I'm not really sure, though. They were starting it up when we heard a huge thud. Probably another person. Pencil and Match left to go and find whoever it was. Pencil and Match came back with Spongey. They all had annoyed looks on their faces which was understandable. They never really liked each other. Suddenly, I heard noises of the machine powering up. It looked like a metal door attached to the wall. It was opening slowly and the light flowed out.

The machine noises stopped. "You can go in now," someone said. We all rushed to the door.

I felt excitement rush through me as I remembered I will get to see Ice Cube.

A/N: Here's a fun fact: The person that the Skin Stealer is posing as is Profily. Also all the other recommended characters are probably in the Backrooms too. Yea.

Together Again (In Reality)

School was boring as heck. There was an alliance meeting after school ended. As I entered the classroom that we held the meetings at, I noticed other people. People that weren't part of our alliance. There was Liy, Barf Bag, Firey, Foldy and the rest of my alliance. Book gestured me to sit down. I did.
"I called you here because your friends have gone missing. We need to do something about it. Lets go and ask Principal Four about it," Book explained,
"Good idea! I'm in. Especially after Stapy disappeared," Foldy replied. We all nodded.
"Alright! Lets go!" Book said as she left. We followed her. As we reached the office, I got a feeling that this would not go well. Book knocked on the door. After a few seconds, Co-Principal X came out. "You can go in now," they smiled. Book nodded and smiled back before entering.
"Yes?" said Principal Four, "What do you want?"
"Our friends have gone missing. You know that. And, as far as we know, you haven't done anything about it!" Book explained. Foldy crossed her arms and nodded in agreement.
"Well, I have been trying to figure out what happened to them. But I haven't been successful so far," sighed Four.
"That answers that! Thanks for wasting my time," Firey said bitterly. He started towards the door and a phone rang. Book grabbed Firey's hand to stop him from going.

Four picked up the phone. I heard a bunch of 'yes' and other forms of it.
"Wait, really!?" they said suddenly,
"What? What is it? Is it about our missing friends?" Foldy asked. Four didn't answer but they put down the phone and turned to us.
"Yes it is. Their going to be here soon. I'll tell the rest of the school," Four said as they grabbed a microphone thing made for announcements. I put my hands on my ears because the sound for alerting people to make announcements was a loud, deafening screech. After it passed, I put my hands back down.

"As most of you know, students have gone missing. We've found them and if you want to see them now then you can come to the entrance," Four said. They put down the microphone thing.
"How did you find them?" Book asked,
"Well, some organization called the 'M.E.G' found them. Didn't give much detail, though," Four explained.

We al left Four's office and headed to the entrance of the school. We all waited for a few minutes. Nothing was happening. But then the door opened. A bunch of people came in. I looked at everyone being happy at seeing their friends. I could only smile because I haven't seen-

"ICY!"

I looked back to the door but only saw a cyan blur before I felt pressure. Bracelety was hugging me tightly. I smiled and she let go.
"ITS SO GOOD TO SEE YOU AGAIN!" she said in her obnoxiously loud voice,
"Y-you too... Bracelety" I giggled. Bracelety looked at me with excitement and joy. We just hugged each other again.
"Uhm... sorry, like, not sorry to, like, ruin the moment but, like, Ice Cube has to, like. come with us. For, like, an alliance meeting," said Match suddenly. Pencil and Match had walked over to me and Bracelety just to stop the interaction.
"But... I'm an alternate?" I replied,
"Well... we need you and Book for this meeting!" Pencil argued,
"Oh..." I said. I knew this wasn't the truth.
"Lets go," Match said. We left for the classroom we usually went to. They just talked about the usual things we talk about. Every FreeSmart member was there. Why was me and Book there? I wanted to ask Match and Pencil that but I knew better. Once it was over, I left the room and tried to find Bracelety. I found her in the library. She was just drawing.
"Hi Icy!" Bracelety waved when she saw me. I smiled.
"Hi..." I whispered back. I sat next to her and looked over to see what she was drawing.

She was drawing herself in a room with yellow wallpaper, gray-ish yellow carpets and a grey ceiling. There was a line in the middle of the drawing that showed another room. It was a hallway in the school and I was there.

"Nice drawing," I complimented,
"W-wow! Thanks, Icy!" Bracelety replied. She seemed a bit flustered, shocked and a bit confused at me complimenting her. It was cute. It was embarrassing to admit.
"This drawing is about what happened when I wasn't here," Bracelety explained quietly,
"Wait, what? Really?" I was... confused,
"Yea. Pencil explained it to be the uh... 'Backrooms'. Theres some website about it. It looked like this," Bracelety described,
"Oh," I replied. She was just finishing up coloring and, like I said before, it was amazing.
"And... done!" she said, holding up her sketchbook,
"What other drawings do you have?" I asked,
"I have a lot. Wanna see them?" she responded. I nodded.

Most of them were of me and her and I appreciated all of them. Some of the pages were writings; I didn't read them because I was afraid that I was invading her privacy. But soon, she flipped to blank pages.
"I... I don't have anything else," Bracelety said, pulling her sketchbook back. We didn't really know what to do next.
"Hey... uh... c-could I have a sleepover with you?" Bracelety asked out of nowhere. I thought for a moment,
"But... would Principal Four allow it?" I replied,
"I think so... Grassy and Rocky had a sleepover once," Bracelety responded. Grassy, Rocky and Firey Jr were some kids that would visit this school most of the time because, for some reason, the middle/elementary school is connected to the high school. Firey Jr has a dorm near Bracelety's. I thought for a moment more.
"Sure," I finally accepted,
"Yay!"

~Time Skip~

We had decided to hold the sleepover in my room. No Gelatin and Naily to tease us. But Lollipop was there... maybe she wouldn't tease us? Anyways, I was just in my dorm, waiting for Bracelety. I don't know why, but I took this like a date. I mean, its not like I like like her, right..? My thoughts were interrupted with a knocking. I got up and opened the door.

"Hi Icy!" Bracelety hugged me. I smiled, feeling my face turn red.
"H-hello," I replied. I invited her in and closed the door. Bracelety looked around my dorm. She turned to me and smiled.
"I like your dorm!" Bracelety said,
"Thanks. It isn't much," I replied. There wasn't a lot in it but Bracelety seemed to like everything about it.

"Do you wanna see my sketch book?" Bracelety asked,
"Sure," I answered. She took out her sketch book and flipped to a random page with a picture of the members of my club.
"Your so good!" I exclaimed,
"No, I'm not... I bet your better," Bracelety replied. Bracelety was a really talented artist but she doesn't think so herself.
"Aw, come on! This is amazing!" I protested,
"Hey, what if we drew each other?" Bracelety suggested,
"Sure," I replied. She flipped to a blank page and took out two pencils. She handed one to me and drew a line in the middle of the page. We started drawing.

After a while, we finished. Bracelety's was amazing as usual. Mine was... eh.
"Wow," Bracelety whispered,
"Mine's ok," I said,
"Your's is awesome!" Bracelety commented,
"Nah," I smiled,
"But-"
"You like everything of mine," I chuckled,
"Because you're amazing!" she said. I blushed. Wait, why was I blushing? There was no way I liked her, right?
I like her, don't I? Maybe I could just confess; Right here, right now.

"Bracelety..." I started,
"Yea?" Bracelety answered,
"Bracelety, I...I like you..." I muttered. Silence.
"I like you too," she replied. More silence.
"Y-you do?"

"Of course,"
"...Thanks,"
"Your welcome?"
I kissed her. I probably shouldn't have but I did. She kissed back.

And there, I knew what it was like to be loved.
